Red Cross Program Not To Decline With Victory-Japan Day. WASHINGTON, D. C.—In contrast with abrupt curtailment of operations by war agencies with the V-J Day proclamation, the American Red Cross must continue its wartime job on substantially the present scale for many months to come, Chairman Basil O'Connor declared today.

"Red Cross services to the armed forces will be nearly as heavy as those of the final war months. The gradual reduction in some phases of this work will tend to be offset by mounting welfare service for veterans, hospitalized men and their families.

Pfc. Geo. W. Holland Describes Tour of Points In Germany

Pfc. George W. Holland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Holland of Hazel, Route 3, and a graduate of Hazel High School, entered the service in October, 1942. With an engineer battalion he went overseas in 1944. He has seen service in England, France, and Germany. Parts of a letter to his mother is quoted below:

"July 18, 1945
Dear Mother:
I got a couple of letters from you today. Mail has begun, to come through again. There was a period of about three weeks we didn't get any mail.

I am now in Regensburg, Germany. Last Sunday 10 of us left here about 4 in the morning on a two-day trip. The first day we drove into the British occupied area of Austria and saw a lot of interesting points. We went 20 miles over the mountains and saw a large glacier. We spent that night in Salzburg.

The next day we went to Hitler's hide out; it was about 8500 feet above sea level. The last four miles about the steepest I've ever seen. The last half mile can't be made with a truck, as it's only a trail, that part is made by foot, but Hitler and his big men had an elevator to take them up.

We came back through Munich. We saw the Beer Hall where Hitler was almost blown up. There is a Red Cross Club set up there now.

It was a very nice trip, and I could write a lot more about it, but enough for now.

President Truman

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19—President Truman today signed the executive order giving Secretary of Labor Schwelb broad new authority to deal with labor problems.

The President formally turned over to his labor secretary the War Labor Board, War Manpower Commission and U. S. Employment Service but stipulated that WLB decisions are to be final and are not to be subject to Mr. Schwelb's review.

Olli D. Cohoon, R. M. 3-c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Euphrey Cohoon, Murray Route 6, is now stationed in a hospital on Guam awaiting transportation home. He was a radio operator on an LST and in two major battles, Iwo Jima and Okinawa, before being stationed on Guam. RM 3-c Cohoon attended the Training School and had completed his junior year before entering the Navy. With credits the Navy had given him, he hopes to be home in time to graduate this year.

Dewey Ragsdale Is Chairman of Red Cross Hospital Work

Dewey Ragsdale is chairman of the local Red Cross chapter of the West Tennessee and Kentucky Camp and Hospital Councils that has headquarters in Memphis, Tenn.

According to Mrs. B. Melugin, the work of this council is not over because the war has been brought to an end. She emphasized as did Mr. Ragsdale that this council stands out as an organization whose purpose is to soothe the hurts of war among the hospitalized. Since the "gaping" wounds of war are yet unhealed, and since the hospitals of the armed forces are overflowing with service people—sick, maimed, and shattered—as a result of war and its attendant maleficence, the Council's effort must be continued unabated to prevent further harm.

Williams said the board would convene again at a future date for further study of the qualifications of possible applicants.

Meanwhile, M. O. Wrather, former Calloway county school superintendent, is acting president. Wrather has filled this post since the death, July 24, of Dr. James H. Richmond, third president in the history of the institution.

Other members of the board who were present for Thursday's session included Charles Ferguson, Smithland; C. E. Crume, Clinton; Claude Winslow, Mayfield; and George Hart, Murray.

Murray Regents Met Thursday

The Murray State Teachers college board of regents met here Thursday to consider applications for the institution's presidential post. But no decision was made. John Fred Williams, Frankfort, board chairman, announced.

Williams said the board would convene again at a future date for further study of the qualifications of possible applicants.

FLORIDA'S STORM LOSS
Is $50,000,000

Miami, Fla., Sept. 16.—Damage from wind and flame in Saturday's hurricane was estimated at $50,000,000 with the greatest loss at the Navy's Richmond Blimp Base where three great hangars collapsed and burned 366 airplanes and 25 patrol blimps were destroyed.

The loss at the blimp base was between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000, a Navy spokesman said. An exact figure will be determined by a board of inquiry now investigating the accident in which one man died.

Fifty sailors were injured, only a few of them sufficiently to be hospitalized.

The towering, 190-foot high roofs of the three hangars—largest single span wooden structures in the world—collapsed as the hurricane winds of 120 miles an hour howled across the lighter-than-air station.

Planes sheltered within their 1,100-foot length and 320-foot width burst into flames as wreckage fell upon them and the structures went up in flames. The men were injured as they fought the flames in the roaring storm.

Harry H. Schultz, of Miami, civilian fire chief of the base, was killed. He was to have received a Navy certificate of merit Sunday, the third anniversary of the Richmond base.

A fire within Miami that destroyed a furniture factory and tile manufacturing plant while 99-mile winds blew caused $150,000 damage.

Destruction of many buildings landscaping and crops accounted for the remainder of the loss. Fruit trees in south Florida and early vegetable crops in the Lake Okechobee region were badly damaged.

TWIN EARS OF CORN
O. W. Whitlow, Almo, Route 2, exhibited twin ears of corn on a stalk in this office Tuesday. This is an oddity and according to authorities on agriculture, such a production is very rare. The corn was of the yellow mixed prolific type.

Mr. Whitlow has about 10 acres of corn in this field. He has shown this plant to several older men who declare they never saw twin ears of corn before.

Railroad Circus To Present Two Performances Here Soon

One of America's largest circuses traveling by railroad this season will present performances in Murray next week.

Not a truck show but a modern three-ring railroad circus, Dailey Bros. Circus will present performances at 3 and 8 p.m. at the Williams Showgrounds on Highway 94, Saturday, September 29.

There are some 20 circuses on tour in the United States this season but few travel by railroad, the remainder using truck transportation. "Traveling aboard its own special train, the Dailey Bros. Circus will arrive in the N. C. & St. L. railroad yards during the early morning hours of show day.

Spectators are invited to witness unloading of the many animals, the heavy wagons and other equipment carried by a large circus.

The circus carries a herd of 10 elephants trained for an intricate routine performed by no other herd. Directed by pretty Norma Davenport, at 14 the world's youngest elephant trainer, the huge two-ton beasts present an entertaining performance climaxed by a realistic baseball game with the gigantic pachyderms themselves as the players.

A sensational wild animal act in which lions, tigers, bears and leopards appear in the same arena is another outstanding feature of the two-hour performances. Beautiful pinto and palomino horses directed by Miss Hazel King, present interesting and entertaining routines.

St. Kitchie, famed Filipino head balancer, presents a sensational head balancing act on the bar of a trapeze high in the big top, and a group of beautiful girls join in

OPA Hopes to Lift Tire Rationing

WASHINGTON—Barring widespread strikes in the tire industry, the Office of Price Administration believes it may be possible to lift tire rationing by the end of the year.

Truck tires will come off rationing before passenger car tires. Strikes may delay tire output and rationing, OPA and WPB say. For the past ten days 15,000 Goodrich workers in Akron have been out on strike.

Ex-Service Men's News

By Claude S. Sproles, Exec-Secy. Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board, 209 Walton Building, Lexington 9, Kentucky. Income Tax For Returners

The Judge Advocate General's Office of the War Department announces that under an amendment to Treasury regulations all returning Army personnel have an additional two months in which to meet Federal income tax obligations. Formerly, such obligations had to be met within 3 1/2 months after a man's return. Under the new regulations, due dates for filing returns or declarations and for paying tax or estimated tax are automatically postponed until 5 1/2 months after the serviceman returns to the continental U. S., not counting the calendar month in which he returns.

There is a further postponement if a man leaves the U. S. again before the 5 1/2 months expire. Thus, many overseas veterans redeployed to the Pacific, even though passing through the States, won't have to worry about Federal tax returns and payments until they get back from the Pacific. The 5 1/2 month period is allowed all personnel returning to this country after December 31, 1944.

Hold Insurance
All World War II veterans are urged to hold on to their insurance after separation from service. In many cases the Government affords life insurance for those individuals who, upon return to civil life, may find themselves financially under commercial life insurance requirements. We suggest that the veteran continue to carry his policy in full with the Eight Year Level-Premium Term Plan, after discharge. When he becomes situated in civilian life and can better determine his financial status, then he should convert his policy to one of the three plans offered by the Veterans Administration. Veterans desiring to convert their policies should contact either this office or the Field Secretary during his next visit to the country, for assistance.

Benefits For Kentucky Veterans
A booklet entitled "Benefits for Kentucky Veterans" has been prepared by this office and may be had, free of charge, upon request.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardul is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build reaction for the "time" to come.

2. Started 3 days before "your time," it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardul. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Scarbrough of Hazel attended services at Pleasant Grove Sunday. He is now in civilian clothes having served in the Navy. When called upon by his pastor, Bro. Childers, to make a talk to the audience he responded with an interesting talk from his experience and observation.

He suggests that the church use their opportunities in helping the service people when they become civilians to get readjusted in the church. The government is planning post-war jobs. Is it not a fact the church could plan many more jobs where more labor of love jobs could be promoted in the church to the advancement of Christ's Kingdom. Perry Boyd expressed thanks for the gifts sent to him by the church. He is home on furlough visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brandon and other relatives. Perry has lately returned from overseas service.

Mr. and Mrs. Eston Paschall of Detroit last week visited Mr. and Mrs. Pugh Nance.

A fine program by children, young people and older ones was enjoyed Sunday evening at the church. A similar program will be held next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Every one invited.

"So I'm in business for myself!"

Shine, mister—?

Yep, I'm in business for myself. Not a very good business, I guess.

Funny. That used to be an old dream of mine—way back in 1945: A business of my own.

Never thought it would work out this way...

Shine, mister—?

Those were the days. I was making more money than ever in my life. And buying Victory Bonds on the Payroll plan—setting up the nest egg Mabel and I thought would someday help us toward independence.

Shine, mister—?

Yep. We had it figured out. We'd keep on buying bonds; keep on saving. And at the maturity of those bonds, we'd have had it all—and more. Four dollars for every three when our "E" bonds matured!

And then—my own radio repair place! Had lots of ideas. It would have been a big success, too...

Not quite enough gumption, I suppose, back in 1945. I sloughed off on my bond buying. Even began to cash in on the ones I had... Shucks, the war was over and I thought 'so what?'

Guess I've been a terrible fool... Shine, Mister—?

The difference between success and failure can be a small difference—the difference between sticking to a resolution or dropping it.

Keep those War Bonds—and buy more and more Victory Bonds! They can mean your own business—your own home—the education of your children. Think of your future—hang on to your bonds!

VICTORY BONDS ...to have and to hold!

$300,000,000 To $400,000,000 Expansion Program Planned by Southern Bell

Some idea of the size of the program is given by Mr. Dumas when he says that "if it were not for the fact that we are giving this job all possible speed in order to provide service as quickly as we can for those now in our waiting lists."

The company is already well along, too, in the planning and engineering stages of its rural development program, which was interrupted in mid-1942 because of war needs for materials and manpower.

"Southern Bell is keenly interested in providing service to more and more rural dwellers throughout the South," Mr. Dumas said. "For the three years before the war we spent more than $300,000,000 building rural lines and adding nearly 30,000 rural telephones. Actually, since 1935, Bell-operated farm telephones in the Southeast have more than quadrupled."

Telephone development in rural areas can be expected to accelerate, as future years bring increasing restoration of Southern farm lands and improved rural economic conditions.

Experience gained in the pre-war construction program, plus experience gained through war use of telephone facilities, will be brought into play in a large measure to expand service on the farms of the South.

"One of the big factors in future farm development is a high-strength steel wire which enables us to place poles farther apart than previously. Use of electric power lines to transmit telephone messages offers another possibility which can be adapted to rural telephone development."

"Steps are being taken now and additional measures will be taken as soon as possible to improve and extend long distance facilities in the South. A new cable, called the Southern Transcontinental, will pass through Southern Bell territory, connecting such key points as Chicago, Atlanta, Birmingham, Memphis, Jackson, and Shreveport. The cable terminates at Los Angeles."

"Work on the Washington-Chicago link of this cable has just begun while construction on the Atlantic-Meridian leg has progressed to a point considerably west of Birmingham."

"Another important cable route will be from Chicago and St. Louis, passing through New Orleans, intersecting the Southern Transcontinental at Jackson, Miss. Still other projects call for the completion of the Jacksonville-Miami section of the Jacksonville-Miami cable and for a Charlotte-Atlanta route by way of Augusta, Georgia."

"In these extensions of the long distance network the important backbone routes to be built will be of the coaxial cable type. When properly equipped, cables will make for greater speed and convenience of long distance service as well as provide for the transmission of television signals."

"Service to motor vehicles is also in the offing and this and other new developments will be studied and adapted to fit the needs of the South as soon as practicable."

"The kind of projects ahead can be announced only in general terms, as I have outlined. They must be approved by the Federal Communications Commission, which must be manufactured. The availability of money to do the job and the level of business conditions will determine the speed with which our program objectives are accomplished."

"Financing this program, of course, presents a very real problem. Wages, taxes, costs of materials and services have all gone up while the price of telephone service has declined along with the decline in the price of telephone earnings until in 1944, our earnings to invest were the lowest in 22 years except for the year 1933. If such a program as I have outlined is to be financed, the telephone company must be allowed earnings which investors will regard as safe and adequate."

"We are beginning to receive more telephone instruments from our suppliers and the installations which are being delayed because of a shortage of instruments can therefore be handled more quickly than those being held up by lack of switchboards and other central office equipment."

"Manufacture of this intricate equipment used in switching calls requires much time. When the war broke out the vast quantities of specialized machinery necessary for the manufacture of this equipment was removed and stored away. Its place was taken by other machinery for making tanks and guns and other war commodities. Now we must clear the floor again, reinstall the machines and retrain workmen before these plants can again manufacture."

"We have plenty of Rubber Footwear to start with, and Rubber Boots may be bought free of stamps by anyone."

"Getting in quite a few Fall Shoes — Color is half and style is the other half, with no place for quality — Let us hope for a change."

"We have some Blankets, Work Clothing that can be used. Take warning that you must still patch up for this winter, or buy anything to make out with."

"Come in and see what we have every time you are in town."

"I expect to vote for both amendments next election. Some study should be made of the proposition."

T. O. TURNER

"While moving recently, I lost a box containing two suits of clothes. Any information will be appreciated. Every one knows my clothes, so identification should be easy. It will be hard to replace them, as my career is hard to fit. T. O. T."

The most profitable days work for school age is in the study hall. I am a graduate of experience, but it took me so long I have little time left to use it. I am an average taxpayer, with no children to educate, so my money is wasted when your children do not attend school. Advice is not appreciated, but people will believe anything you tell them if whispered.

Pay no attention to the column writers who tell you there will be plenty of everything shortly, desirable merchandise is scarce now than ever, and organized labor is going to make it still scarcer and higher, as manufacturers say they cannot make and sell at ceiling prices and continue to advance labor cost. (There is plenty of trouble ahead).
